A note from the student organizer:

My name is Maya and I am an incoming 6th grader at MacArthur School. I saw that our district was having trouble giving school supplies to children who cannot afford them. I wanted to find a way to give children school supplies in order to have all the things to have a good education. So, I met with Terri McHugh, Jennifer Waldorf and Diana Nelson to talk to them about giving school supplies to kids in need. I had heard of a "pack the bus" with school supplies from the town that I was born in and they really liked the idea. Now I can finally help the students in need with school supplies. So please come out to Target and help the kids in need.
